

Donor Privacy Policy
United Way of New York State
Approved by Board of Directors 06/05/18

Our Commitment to Our Donors

We will not sell, share or trade our donors' names or any personal information with any other entity without express written permission, nor send mailings to our donors on behalf of other organizations. This policy applies to all information received by United Way of New York State, both online and offline, on any platform, as well as any electronic, written or oral communications.

Privacy Policy

United Way of New York State respects the privacy of our donors. Under no circumstances will names, contact information, or any other data related to our donors be sold, lent or traded to any organization for any reason, unless donor requests us to do so in writing.

Personal information entrusted to the United Way of New York State will not be communicated outside the organization, unless specifically authorized by the donor.

Donor information, including but not limited to contact information, employer, and giving history, is collected and maintained for internal purposes only. United Way of New York State retains such personal information only as long as necessary for the purposes of this policy and to comply with federal and state record retention requirements.

Donors who do not wish to be listed in the Annual Report may request to be listed anonymously. Donors who indicate that they wish to remain anonymous are not listed in the Annual Report.

Upon written request, donors may be allowed access to their personal information and specify that the information be corrected, oppose the retention of the information, or request its elimination from United Way of New York State's information records. It is important to note that any donor records containing transactions (pledges or payments) must be retained in compliance with the Internal Revenue Service regulations.
